Affains begin to take a serious aspect at the school, as there are besides the teachers and a matron twenty-six children, all of which necessitates the consuming of a large amount of the necessaries of life, and the responsibility of caring for these innocent deaf children devolves upon the teachers there,

As has been stated before, Mrs. Hammond had full charge of the finances and of course she superintended the buying of all that was required and doing a large business with the merchants. in the place, running up bills of large amounts, but was always noted for her prompt payments.

But now this is changed, and those who are left in charge of the school are placed in an embarrassing position, as all goods were charged to Mrs. Ham-mond personally without relation to the school, and the dealers will not care to give credit for any length of time to a woman who has apparently fled from

The whole affair is still the talk of the place, and what will be done by the state in regard to the school is a question debated. Some think that the puplis will be transferred to the Hartford institution, while others think that the desirable location and the good that has been done in the past at Mystic will be enough to warrant its continuance there providing the school is under good man-consultation with Governor Coffin regarding the school frauds. It is a question whether the frauds were actually committed at Mystic, where the home is located, or at Hartford, where the fraudtion will be in Hartford or New London

ANXIOUS TO SETTLE THE MATTER Mystic, May 9 .- An effort is being made by the friends of Mrs. Hammond the manager of the Whipple School for Deaf Mutes here, to settle the trouble which has arisen over Governor Coffin's investigation into the management of the institution. This afternoon Mrs John McGuigan, the daughter of Mrs. Hammond, and who lives in Philadelphia, arrived here from Hartford. She had been to see Governor Coffin with reference to the investigation yesterday afternoon, but the governor referred Mrs. McGulgan to State Attorney Lucas of Norwich, whom he said had the mat-ter in charge, Mrs. McGuigan, it has been learned, did not visit the state attorney, but came here, arriving on the 10 %clock train. Mrs. McGulgan went immediately to the home, and positively refused to be interviewed by any newspaper man. To one of the teachers at the Whipple school Mrs. McGuigan stated that her mother came to her home in Philadelphia a week ago Monday, but left there early this week. Her present whereabouts were unknown to her. Among the ternoon was Attorney Tanner of New London, Mrs. McGuigan, it is reported, trie-the matter, and tha is the purpose of her visit here

WALLINGFORD.

Now that there is a lively prospect of ummer's advent the question naturally arises. What is going to be done with State Atorney Eggleston has had a the rickety old band stand that at present disfigures the square in front of Simpson block on Main street. There has not been any time for some years that it has been a thing of beauty nient bills of the school were presented and paid. Upon the decision of this point will depend whether the prosecusquare it causes adverse criticism from strangers who visit the town and from the natives it causes a feeling of weariness to think that the public spirited citizens, to say nothing of the borough officials, who are supposed to look after the best interests of the town, should allow such a distigurement on the only public square in the borough. The stand if it was trued up and painted some lively color or colors would not look quite so bad, but with the funeral color it now bears it is not a wholesome thing to look at. The cost of putting it in good order and painting it would be trifling; as it is a disgrace to civiliza

April Showers Bring Forth May Flowers."

So wrote the poet, long since, and each recurring April verifies it. Already the buds are peeping out and soon "nature will put on her beautiful garments"; the traces of winter will vanish, and presently earth and shrub and tree will be "arrayed in living green" and "the desert will bloom and blossom as the rose." But during all seasons people must live. And in order to support life and properly nourish "The house we live in" it is indispensible to cat GOOD BREAD.
